

To Whom It May Concern:

The Dynamics of Successful Management, by Paul J. Myer and SMI, has been the best investment we have made in a long time. Over the past 35 years we have spent a lot of time and money on training and consulting. There is not one thing that we have done that even comes close to this program. It is not only packed full of useful tools and life changing lessons, but it is by far the best value for the investment.

Anyone that manages people will benefit from this program. If you are already a good manager of your time, people and procedures it will help you to become even better. If you struggle with any or all of these management skills, this program will help you learn to develop the skills and habits you need to become an expert manager.

SMI is an outstanding company. Through your involvement in an SMI program you will become a successful, goal oriented manager.

Doug Smith
J. Dennis Smith
Elwood Smith